

President Toomas Hendrik Ilves went to Prague on Monday to participate in a prestigious international conference entitled, Democracy and Security: Core Values and Sound Policies. The Estonian Head of State will speak at the conference.

The other speakers at the conference include United States President George W. Bush and Garry Kasparov, one the leaders of the opposition in Russia.

The Estonian Head of State also plans to meet with Czech President Václav Klaus. The President will arrive back in Estonia on Wednesday.

Office of the President
Public Relations Department
Phone +372 631 6229