

Today in Prague, President Toomas Hendrik Ilves met with Václav Klaus, the President of the Czech Republic. The Heads of State spoke primarily about the future of the European Union and the Union's Neighborhood Policy.

“Support for the European Union is at an unprecedented level in Estonia and Estonia supports the future development of the Union's institutions,” said President Ilves.

The Estonian Head of State was in Prague in connection with the Democracy and Security: Core Values and Sound Policies Conference, where he was the main speaker on the day before yesterday.
