

"I send my heartfelt condolences to you and the entire Russian nation commemorating those who perished tragically in the accident involving the Moscow-St. Petersburg train on November 27th," President Toomas Hendrik Ilves wrote in his letter of condolence to Dmitry Medvedev, the Russian Head of State. "My thoughts are with the families of the victims and I wish all those who were injured a speedy recovery."

Office of the President
Public Relations Department
Phone +372 631 6229