

The President, Toomas Hendrik Ilves, will tomorrow depart on a one-day working visit to Helsinki, where he will introduce Estonia's e-solutions in his opening address at the CyberStrat international cyber security conference and share Estonia's experiences in the sphere of cyber security.

At the conference, top Finnish experts from the digital sphere will share their ideas about the possibilities of reversing cyber world threats to competitive advantage and the strategic reserves of companies.

Among others, a Professor of the University of Columbia and popular writer, Misha Glenny, Editor in Chief of the Helsingin Sanomat newspaper, Mikael Pentikäinen, a specialist in digital forensic expertise, Tomi Tuominen, and a Doctor in Military Sciences, Jarno Linnéll, will share their experiences and views.

For additional information, see: <http://www.cyberstrat2013.fi/>

Office of the President
Public Relations Department
Phone +372 631 6229